Brookland Citizens Express Thanks for Aid at a Recent Fire.

in Investigation Into Complaints of Stagmant Pools-Inspection of Flour and of Milk Bottles-Permits for Bay Window Projections.

The Brookland Citizens Association, laboring under a misapprehension, yester-day addressed a letter to Chief Engineer Dutton, of the Fire Department, tender-ing thanks of the Brookiand citizens for the prompt and effective work of Truck D and Engine Company 12 at a fire on Monday. Chief Dutton, in referring the matter to the Commissioners states that Truck D was not present at the fire, the Truck D was not present at the fire, the work being done entirely by No. 12 Engine Company.

The letter from the Brookland association, signed by Charles H. Harbaugh, says: "I have to request that you will convey to the men of Truck D and Engine Company No. 12 the thanks of the Brookland Citizens' Association has entered a strengulus property to the men of Truck D and Engine Company No. 12 the thanks of the Brookland Citizens' Association for their prompt and effective work yesterday at the fire In our suburb. This disaster serves to emphasize the need of more adequate fire protection outside of the city limits, where the buildings are largely of wood, and make quick service imperative in order to be of much value. Thanks to the efforts of the District Commissioners a fire engine house is now in course of construction in Brookland, and we will soon have the protection of which we have long stood in need."

The East Washington Heights Citizens Association has entered a strengulus presented to Justice Bradley, A S. Colyar, council for MacDowell to the prisoner from this jurisdiction on the ground that the petition for he cametery to be construction outside of the city in the following orders were approved yesterday by the Board of Commissioners:

That the compensation of C. W. Hillers, fispector in the Engineer Department, increased from $3 to $4 per day. In the requisition was based on hearsay, a telegram sent by the police of this city to the Missouri authorities. It was also in the first of the alimshouse of the cemetery to be construction on the charge of a saulting an officer, and that he should be held here for that offence.

The Attorney of the District, A. B. Duvall, yesterday handed the following report to the Commissioners relative to the complaint of L. A. Miller, concerning a pool of stagnant water near the corner of Fourth and Albany Streets northeast, together with the report of the Health Officer in regard to the matter: "It appears from the latest report upon this case by Inspector Wollard, June 13, 1901, that the property upon which this nuisance, consisting of stagnant water, nuisance, consisting of stagnant water, exists is private property owned by two persons, both of when are non-residents, one of whom, Jeseph Speidel, authorized the abatement of the nuisance upon the portion owned by him, when the other owner will do the same.

"From earlier reports among the files, I infer that this property is on a street where there is a public sewer, and if this is correct the case comes within the provisions of section 4 of the act of Congress approved May 19, 1896, for the drainage of lots. If, however, there is no public sewer, then the case is in the same category as the matter of premises 130 i Street, and will be covered in my new regulations proposed in my opinion of date herewith."

Charles A. Rhodes, 406 Albany Street, Eckington, D. C., has also requested the Commissioners to provide proper drain-age for the vacant lot adjoining his property. The correspondent states that for-merly the water which now forms a stagnant pool here was a stream of running water. Excavations made by the District have left the lot in an unhealthy condition, Mr. Rhodes states. The odor rising from the place has been very offensive and unhealthy, especially during the hot weather.

Mr. Rhodes further complains that both his wife and child have been ill of malarial fever, caused by this body of stagnant water in the vicinity of his home. The place, he declares, breeds poisonous gases. Mr. Rhodes father-in-law, says the writer, some time ago preferred a request that the nuisance be abated. To this request, he states that on July 6 he received a letter from Dr. Woodward, the Health Officer, who stated that the owner of the property is a non-regident of the District and that there is no law which will smalle the Health Department to proceed against the person having charge of the property for the owner. The Health Officer stated, says Mr. Rhodes, that the place, in his opinion, should be filled in.

The Attorney for the District has addressed an opinion as follows to the Commissioners relative to the inspection of "The Commissioners, as the executive officers of the District of Columbia, are charged by law not only with the appointment of officials to administer the law, but they are vested with the duty of general supervision of such officials. In the case under consideration, I am not aware of any present duty resting upon the Commissioners.

the Commissioners.

"The law regulating the inspection of flour provides for the duties of the Inspector of Flour, and the only way to determine any controverted question in respect to his duties is by making a case which can be submitted to the courts for adjudication." The Attorney for the District also advised the Commissioners yesterday in the ase of Burton Macafee for mandamus against the Commissioners, as follows: "The petitioner claimed that he was ntitled to have the court require the Commissioners to signify their concur ence in an application for a permit for certain bay window projections upon the building which he proposed to erect on Sixteenth and Rosedale Streets northeast. Sixteenth and Rosedale Streets northeast.

"A demurrer was filed to this petition, in behalf of the Commissioners, claiming that the act of Congress approved March 3, 1991, authorizing building permits for projections on the streets, upon the concurrence of the Commissioners and the approval of the Secretary of War, was purely a discretionary matter with the Commissioners; that the applicant had no vested right, and that the Commissioners owed him no legal duty in the premises.

"The court took this view of the mat-ter, and, accordingly, dismissed the peti-tion; an appeal to the Court of Appeals has been noted by the petitioner."

William O. Orndorff, Inspector and Measurer of Wood for the Rock Creek District, has made the following annual report to the District Commissioners: "I have the honor to inform you that, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, I have inspected and measured, in the Rock Creck district, eight thousand two Rock Creek district, eight thousand two hundred and thirty-seven and one-half (8.25%) cords of wood, at nine (9) cents per cord, amounting to seven hundred and ferty dollars and thirty-five cents (1742.5). The total expenses for the year were, for ane thousand (1,000) certificates, two dollars ($2.00). The present method in vogue respecting the measurement of wood seems to meet with satisfaction and the approval of all concerned, and I have, therefore, no suggestions to make as to any change therein."

COST OF ABATING NUISANCES. Legislation Proposed to Reach Non-

Resident Owners. The Attorney for the District, A. B. AN ALL-NIGHT SESSION.

Local Street Railway Employer Working for a Nine-Hour Day.

To discuss and agitate in favor of a line-hour work day, and the adjustment of a number of grievances regarding the recent discharge of union members, Division No. 161, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, of this city, Street Railway Employes, of this city, held an all-night meeting last night at 650 C Street northwest.

The president of the division, J. E. Mc-Cracken, occupied the chair, and considerable enthusiasm was displayed when the various speakers dwelt on the rights of the laboring men and their just dues. The meeting was continued all night to enable those members who were out on their cars and returned to their homes late in the night to participate and voice their sentiments. A number of delegations from other labor organizations were present, and assured the street car men of their support and sympathy. Among those who spoke in favor of the movement were Milford Spohn, of the Pricklayers Union; E. J. Ratigan, of the Steamfitters Union; C. W. Hervinger, of the Typographical Union, William Slivers, and a number of members of the Street Railway Employees Union. the Typographical Union; William Slivers, and a number of members of the Street Railway Employes Union.

Resolutions looking to the adjustment of the claims of the employes were adopted, and will be submitted by them to the various street car companies for acceptance. The members express confidence that the plan and resolutions offered will be accepted by the companies, massauch as the employes claim that they are only asking for what belongs to them by right.

THE HIRAM PRICE WILL. Letters Testamentary Asked for by the Co-executors. Hiram Price, by his will, dated March 26, 95, and a codicil dated October 18, 1898, directs the following disposition to be made of his estate:

To his grandson, H. Price, jr., a gold watch and chain; to his grandson, H. P. Dillon, a gold-headed cane; to his son, W. H. Price, a Japanese screen.

After taking the above named articles from his personal property, the testator states that he estimates that his estate is worth about $186,000. Of this he directs the following bequests be made: To his daughter, Anna P. Dillon, $75,090; to Susan Louise Wilcox, $11,050. It is stated by the testator that his estate of $186,000 was accumulated by a long life of industry and economy, and if used for good and useful purposes by those to whom it is given it will be sufficient for their needs. It is also directed that in the event of the death of his daughter, Anna P. Dillon, before the testator, her share of the es-tate shall revert to her children in equal tate shall revert to her children in equal shares.

Other bequests provided for are $11,000 to May P. Parkinson; $4,000 to Susie D. Sterling; $7,000 to Mary G. Price; $50 cents to H. Price Colliar, and $250 to Will P. Sulby. It is stated that this amount was lent to Sulby some time since. The remainder of the estate, $77,700, is left to the testator's son, W. H. Price. The portion of the estate left to Mrs. Dillon is made up of the following: House and furnishings and library in the city, 1220 Vermont Avenue; stock in the Davenport National Bank, $10,000; stock in Davenport Woolen Mills, $2,000; an farm in Cedar County, Iowa, $4,000, and cash, $35,000.

It is stated in the codicil that the testator's daughter, Anna P. Dillon, and his granddaughter, Anna Dillon Oliver, havgranddaughter, Anna Dillon Oliver, hav-ing died July 4, 1898, by the sinking of the steamer Bourgogne, the legacy left them is to be divided equally among her chil-is to be divided equally among her children.

John F. Dillon and William H. Price are named co-executors of the will. The executors ramed filed a petition in the Probate Court yesterday asking that they be granted letters testamentary on the estate.

Mr. Price was well known in this city, where he took an active part in the temperance movement. He was the principal mover in the organization of the District Anti-Saloon League and was its first President. He died on May 30 last.
